

GERMANY'S U-BOAT CAMPAIGN WANING

Only Six British Merchantmen Sunk During Past Week

Italians Continue to Hold Teutons to Most of New Line Along Piave River—Allied Reinforcements will Be Some Days Yet in Reaching Italian Line.

BULLETIN.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Light is thrown upon hitherto unexplained reference to German intrigue in the ranks of the Italian army by an official despatch received here today from Rome. It tells how on the eve of their great offensive the Teutons circulated among soldiers at certain parts of the Italian front newspapers carrying sensational stories of rebellions in Italian provinces, of English soldiers shooting down women and children and of French cavalrymen riding over the bodies of agitators.

In further explanation of the breakdown of the Italian defense, the message says Italian speaking Bulgarians and Croats in Italian uniforms penetrated the lines on the eve of the offensive and caused great confusion by telephoning orders for the abandonment of important positions.

Accounts of the Italians' retreat before the Austro-German drive have told of the failure of the Italians at crucial points to make a show of fight against the invader.

Germany's submarine campaign is waning as the result of the stringent measures that have been taken to combat it by the British and American naval forces. Last week only six British merchantmen were sunk, and only one of these was a craft exceeding 1,000 tons. This is the smallest total of vessels sent to the bottom during any week since the submarine warfare began, the lowest previous figures having been twelve merchantmen, eight of them in the category of 1,000 tons and over and four of less than 1,000 tons.

While the Italians continue to hold tenaciously to most of the new line along the Piave river from the Adriatic Sea to the region of Feltre and thru the northern hills westward from Feltre to Lake Garda they again have been compelled to give ground in both sectors to the Teutonic allied armies.

Upon the shoulders of the Italians alone for several days must rest the security of the Piave line and of historic Venice, for the information has been vouchsafed by Major General Maurice, chief director of military operations at the British war office that it will be "some days yet" before British and French fighting forces can be placed in the field to reinforce the Italians.

Meanwhile, today is striving energetically to force passages of the Piave at various points and again has been successful on southern reaches increasing the stream at Grisoloa, four miles distant from its mouth and some twenty miles northeast of Venice. Here however in the swampy regions the Teutons are being held by the defending forces from further gains.

To the north around Zenson where the stream was negotiated by the Austro-German fighting is still in progress with the Italians holding the upper hand but not yet able to drive back the invaders to the eastern bank of the stream. Still farther north attempts to gain a foothold on the western bank of the Piave between Quero and Fenero were repulsed with heavy casualties.

In the hilly region from Tezze on the Trentino front, eastward to Feltre, a distance of about twelve miles, the Italians have fallen back before the enemy who also has gained additional vantage points on the Asiago plateau and the Sette Comuni. On the western bank of Lake Garda, the Austro-Germans attempted to push forward southward, but were held by the Italians.

On the western front in France and Belgium the situation remains normal, with only heavy bombardments and minor infantry operations in progress on various sectors. The Germans have not renewed their attack against the Canadians in the region of Passchendaele where Tuesday night they were completely repulsed in an attack in which they sought to regain lost ground.

The British drive against the Turks both along the Tigris river and in Palestine continues successfully. Under the pressure of the British the Ottoman forces have now withdrawn their line from thirty to fifty miles north of Tektir, placing them virtually 150 miles northwest of Bagdad on the Tigris. In Palestine the Turks have been forced back an additional seven miles. It is reported that they have lost half their effectives in men killed, wounded or made prisoner since the operation began. A British torpedo boat destroyer and small monitor have been sunk by an enemy submarine while operating in conjunction with the Palestine column. Thirty three men from the two vessels are missing.

The situation in Russia still remains obscure. Alto despatches sent out by the Finnish Telegram Bureau, assert that Premier Kerensky again is in control in Petrograd, other reports are to the effect that he has set up his government in Moscow and that fighting still continues in the capital. No advices have been forthcoming from provisional government sources.

BANDITS BLOW SAFF.
Hannibal, Mo., Nov. 14.—Three bandits today blew open the safe of a bank at Farber, Mo., and escaped with $3,100.

LIBERTY LOAN BONDS ARE DECREASING

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Bonds of the first Liberty loan issue were selling in the stock market today at a price equivalent to a discount of $1.14 on a hundred dollar bond, while the new issue was at a discount of 82 cents.

The government securities were steadily offered down their decline accompanying the weakness of stocks and the bottom prices were new low records.

The 3 1/2 per cent yielded from yesterday's final price of 99.30 to 98.86 and the 4s from 99.80 to 99.18. Total offerings were extensive, running into several millions of dollars. Liquidation was in part ascribed to more pressing needs of holders to meet obligations in other quarters. There was also a belief that some subscribers to the 4 per cent had found themselves unable by reason of existing conditions to meet tomorrow's installment of 18 per cent payable on that issue.

Robert Lansing, Secretary of State in a letter to a member of the war work council, endorsing the campaign, declared that to preserve the morale of the armed forces of a nation is essential to success. If we are to have a Napoleon's declaration that morale is to all other factors in a war as three to one.

"But beyond the national service which is to be made possible by the collection of adequate funds," he added, "I desire to express my hearty approval of your plan to serve as well the forces of France, Italy and Russia. This plan of work among our brothers in arms will manifest to the governments as well as to the individual who are benefited the broad spirit of fraternity which inspires the people of this country."

PROMINENT MEN OFFER SERVICES TO U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Another group of business and professional men have volunteered to serve the Red Cross in France, for the period of the war without pay—giving up their private interests and paying all expenses incident to their service.

A high order of executive ability is needed to take charge of the branch depots in France from which supplies are shipped to Paris and from thence distributed by trucks and otherwise to a dozen or more branch warehouses. It is these branch depots which are to be in charge of the latest squad of volunteer business and professional men. The list of those who have volunteered included:

Henry S. Sherman, Cleveland, O., vice president of the Standard Wheel company; Philip L. Smith, Short Hills, N. J., banker and member of the New York Stock Exchange; Johnson DeForest, New York lawyer and son of Robert W. DeForest, vice president of the American Red Cross and Alden Swift, Chicago, of Swift & Co.

WARRANT ISSUED FOR FORMER SENATOR

ABERDEEN, S. D., Nov. 14.—Robert P. Stewart, United States district attorney for South Dakota announced here late today that a warrant for the arrest of former United States Senator R. F. Pettigrew of South Dakota, on an indictment charging violation of the espionage law, would be served immediately upon Pettigrew who is now in Chicago.

Mr. Stewart announced that Pettigrew would be brought back to South Dakota to stand trial. The indictment charges the former Senator with attempting to obstruct the selective draft and with making anti-war utterances, contrary to the provisions of the espionage law.

Altho Pettigrew was indicted several weeks ago at Sioux Falls by a federal grand jury Mr. Stewart explained a warrant had not been issued for his arrest because he understood Mr. Pettigrew was ill in a Chicago hospital.

DISCUSSES PROPOSED INTER-ALLIED COUNCIL

Former Premier Asquith Brings Matter Before Commons

Premier Lloyd George in Answering Interrogations, Reads the Actual Terms of Agreement Between the British, French and Italian Governments.

London, Nov. 14.—The proposed new inter-allied council was the subject of discussion in the house of commons today when former Premier Asquith, brought the matter before the house by interrogating Premier Lloyd George on functions of the council.

Mr. Asquith asked the premier, whether he would now state the precise functions of the inter-allied council, and in particular of its military staff; whether it was proposed that the council, if so advised by its staff, should have power to interfere with and over-ride the opinion on a matter of strategy of the general staff at home and the commander-in-chief in the field; whether the military staff of the inter-allied council was to have intelligence and operations departments, or either of them, of its own; whether ultimate decision on distribution and movement of various armies in the field was to rest on the council or on the government's representative on it, and whether opportunity would be given to discuss proposed arrangements and statements made in connection therewith in the premier's Paris speech.

Reads Terms of Agreement.

Premier Lloyd George in replying to Mr. Asquith said that the best way of answering the question was to read the actual terms of the agreements between the British, French and Italian governments for the creation of a supreme council of the allies. The text of the agreement follows:

"First: With a view to better co-ordination of the military action on the western front, a supreme war council is created, composed of the prime minister and a member of the government of each of the great powers whose armies are fighting on that front, the extension of the scope of the council to other fronts to be reserved for discussion with the other great powers.

"Second: The supreme war council has for its mission to watch over the general conduct of the war. It prepares recommendations for the consideration of the governments and keeps itself informed of their execution and reports thereon to the respective governments.

"Third: The general staff and military commands of the armies of each power charged with the conduct of the military operations remain responsible to their respective governments.

"Fourth: General war plans drawn by competent military authorities are submitted to the supreme war council which under higher authority of government insures its concordance and submits, if need be, any necessary changes.

"Fifth: Each power delegates to the supreme war council one permanent military representative whose exclusive function is to act as technical adviser to the council.

"Sixth: Military representatives receive from the government and the competent military authorities all the information, documents, information and documents relating to the conduct of the war.

"Seventh: The military representatives watch day by day the situation of the forces and the means of all kinds of which the allies and enemy armis dispose.

"Eighth: The supreme war council meets normally at Versailles, where the permanent military representatives and staffs are established; they may meet at other places according to circumstances. Meetings of the supreme war council take place at least once a month."

The premier went into a further explanation saying:

"From the foregoing it will be clear that the council will have no executive power and that final decisions in the matter of strategy and the distribution and movement of the various armies in the field will rest with the several governments of the allies. There will therefore be no operations department attached to the council. The permanent military representatives will derive from the existing intelligence departments of the allies all information necessary in order to enable them to submit advice to the supreme allied council."

"The object of the allies has been to set up a central body charged with the duty of continuously surveying the field of operations as a whole by the light of information derived from all the fronts and from all the governments and staff and of co-ordinating the plans prepared by the different general staffs and, if necessary of making proposals of their own for the better conduct of the war."

Mr. Lloyd George announced that the government had set aside Monday for the discussion of his Paris speech and the proposed council.

U. S. PLANS TO "CORNER" SILVER MARKET

Government Will Control All Silver Produced in U. S. to Prevent Price Raising.

Washington, Nov. 14.—A government "corner" on all silver produced in the United States within the next year, is planned jointly by American and British officials to prevent the completion of purchases by other foreign governments from raising prices to the point where coinage becomes unprofitable. Representatives of the two governments are conferring with leading silver producers, it was learned today on proposed contracts under which the governments would virtually control the silver market for a year at a price somewhat lower than the prevailing rate of 86 cents an ounce. This plan does not contemplate the cutting off of supply to jewelers and others users of silver since the government would use only part of the metal under contract. The balance would be released to the market for normal industrial purposes. One of the chief results would be to place restrictions on the acquisition of silver by oriental countries where a greatly enlarged demand for silver coins has been caused by counterfeit activities of the war.

More than 74,000,000 ounces of silver were produced in the United States in 1916 and this year's output promises to be larger. Director of the Mint Baker's report shows that the government used 12,314,000 ounces for coinage during the year ending June 30 and probably will use 20,000,000 ounces this year. Great Britain needs quantities of silver for coins, particularly in India where currency is circulated. Reports reached the mint today that an acute shortage of small silver coins exists in the Philippines. All mints now are working 24 hours a day, seven days a week to increase the output of "changers" including one cent pieces, for which war activities and war taxes have caused a strong demand.

Five vessels of less than 1,000 tons and also one fishing boat were sunk during the week.

WILSON SEEKS TO PREVENT GENERAL RAILWAY STRIKE

Calls Conference of Brotherhood Heads to Meet Him

President Will Insist That Patriotism Be Put Ahead of Private Interest—Confident Nothing Unpatriotic Will Be Done.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Once again President Wilson has undertaken personally to prevent a general railroad strike. He has called the heads of the four great railroad brotherhoods to meet him in conference Nov. 22 and will insist that patriotism be put ahead of private interest; that there be no attempt to handicap the operation of a vital part of the nation's war-making machinery.

The president is confident that nothing unpatriotic will be done but if the necessity arises he is prepared to take the required steps to prevent a tie-up of transportation in announcing today the coming conference with the union chiefs, Judge William L. Chambers, chairman of the board of mediation and conciliation, made public a letter from the president which said:

"It is inconceivable to me that patriotic men should now for a moment contemplate the interruption of the transportation which is so absolutely necessary to the safety of the nation."

"The last thing I should wish to contemplate would be the possibility of being obliged to take any unusual measures to operate the railways and I have so much confidence that the men you are dealing with appreciate the patriotic motives underlying your efforts that I shall look forward with assurance of your success."

At the time of the threatened strike averted by the eight hour law last year, it was understood that the government had developed plans for emergency operation of the railroads, if that became necessary. At that time the United States was not at war.

President Wilson's letter was sent to Judge Chambers two weeks ago, before the mediation board chairman left for Cleveland, Ohio, to confer with the union leaders. It is understood the conferences held there were productive of substantial agreements, but that the engineers, conductors, trainmen and firemen were unwilling to commit themselves unconditionally to arbitration although welcoming mediation.

An adjustment at the white house conference next week is hoped for which will dispense with the possibility of a strike, at least for the duration of the war, either by an agreement to submit the difficulties to an arbitration board whose findings would be binding, or by postponing a wage contest until the enemy overseas has been defeated.

The Switchmen's Union of North America has agreed to arbitration and it is understood the Order of Railroad Telegraphers also is willing to put their case in the hands of an impartial tribunal.

The new demands by the railroad workers would add $109,000,000 yearly to their pay envelopes, according to calculations of the railway managements.

STUDENT SERIOUSLY INJURED FROM HAZING

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Nov. 14.—"Stub" Hartwell, captain and Charles Mabbitt, star half back, of the Cornell college football team, charged with assault to do great bodily harm in connection with a hazing episode with George T. Renner, Jr., of this city the victim, will be given a chance to offer skin from their bodies to graft upon the stomach of Young Renner.

Renner's stomach and other portions of his body were rubbed raw with scrubbing brushes when he was "hazed" in the gymnasium of the Cornell college several days ago. The wounds have refused to heal and attending physicians say that skin grafting may be the only means of saving the young man's life. Members of the family have been examined and are not in condition to give skin for the process and the father of the youth has decided to allow the alleged assailants to make the sacrifice if they desire to do so.

The "hazing" of Renner has created much sentiment against the practice in Cornell and both athletes have been suspended from the football team. Renner is at the home of his parents here.

BRITISH DESTROYER HAS BEEN SUNK

LONDON, Nov. 14.—A British destroyer and a small monitor which were operating in conjunction with the British army in Palestine have been sunk, it was officially announced this evening.

A total of 23 men from the two vessels are missing.

A hostile submarine sank the two war ships. The text of the statement announcing the losses reads: "One of his majesty's destroyers and a small monitor have been sunk by an enemy submarine whilst co-operating with the army in Palestine. Seven men are missing from the destroyer and 26 from the monitor."

SEVERE FIGHTING REPORTED

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Nov. 14.—By the Associated Press—There was severe fighting when the enemy crossed the Piave on pontoons near Zenson with a number of machine guns. The Italians rushed him to a cluster of houses near the west bank of the river where he was being held at last accounts.

WILL NOT ALLOW AUSTRIANS EXPLOSIVES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Austrians employed in coal mines principally in Ohio districts can hereafter come into possession of explosives used in mines only under great restrictions. Secretary Lane today ruled that the new law licensing use of high explosives which prohibits their possession by enemy aliens extends to subjects of any country allied with an enemy of the United States.

Secretary Lane ruled that where a mining company has its own magazine and a licensed foreman, explosives will be issued to aliens, for use on the premises surrounded with certain safeguards. The Austrian or German miner, however, may no longer buy his own explosives for mining and use them with accountability.

The law, by licensing possession and use of explosives is intended to check outrages.

PRODUCTION FAILS TO KEEP UP WITH DEMAND

Coal Shortage is Estimated at 50,000,000 Tons

Immediate Measure to Meet Situation Include Curtailment of Shipments to Non-Essential Industries and Campaign for Fuel Conservation.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The 1917 coal shortage is put at 50,000,000 tons in estimates completed today by the fuel administration. Although production of bituminous and Anthracite together has jumped 50,000,000 tons, consumption, it is declared has increased at least 100,000,000 tons.

Immediate measures to meet the situation planned by fuel administrator Garfield include curtailment of shipments to non-essential industries priority orders designed to increase the coal supply and a campaign for coal conservation in manufacturing establishment and households.

Previous statements from the fuel administration had indicated the belief that the increased production might meet the enlarged demand. Munition plants, however, are said to be using fully fifty per cent more coal than they used a year ago and other lines of industry, stimulated by war conditions are demanding nearly as large an increase in their supplies.

"The fuel administration is determined," said Dr. Garfield today "that war industries, public utilities and domestic consumers shall be supplied. To this end the fuel administration expects the co-operation of every coal user in the country. The fuel administration will use all of its authority to prevent the waste of fuel and the unnecessary use of coal. Domestic users will be urged to conserve their supplies. Wherever the necessary use of coal in industry threatens to embarrass war industry the fuel administration will see that the war needs are filled. All activities which are unnecessary to the maintenance of the military or economic efficiency will have to give way by curtailment of the necessities of war and this must be accomplished without undue curtailment of domestic supply.

"This policy is expected to relieve not only the demand for coal, but a part of the enormous strain on the transportation facilities of the country."

Dr. Garfield illustrated the increased demand for coal by pointing to the requirements of the Bethlehem Steel company which is using this year 3,000,000 tons more than it took in 1916. The demands of the government including the requirements of the fighting forces of the army and navy jumped this year from 2,000,000 to 8,000,000 tons. The requirements of public utilities companies have increased about 23 per cent.

Most of this increase was due to the increased use of power by munition plants. Solution of the coal shortage problem, officials believe will do as much toward increasing the supply to meet the demand as will curtailment of industry, altho the best possible use of transportation facilities still would leave the country many millions of tons short of fuel. Curtailment therefore will be enforced to the point where consumption and production are balanced.

CHICAGO'S POPULATION SHOWS INCREASE

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The 1917 city directory of Chicago, distribution of which is being made today, shows an increase of 46,000 names over last year's record, according to E. J. Dillon, one of the publishers. The new book indicates a population of 2,652,900, or 987,000 less than the federal estimate on which was based the selective draft in this city.

The Johnsons left the Smiths and the Browns far behind, 9,600 being counted. The Smiths ran second with 7,240 representatives in the book, the Browns trailing with 4,280 and the Jones scarcely noticed with 3,630.

Four hundred tons of the new directory, representing 50,000 sixteen pound volumes have been printed.

VILLA TROOPS NOW OCCUPY OJINAGA

Mexicans Evacuate City Last Night

Come to American Side and Surrender Arms—Strength of Villa Forces Placed at 1500 Men.

BULLETIN.
EL PASO, Nov. 14.—Telegrams received here tonight say that Martin Lopez, Villa's chief lieutenant, was executed by Villa for failure to obey orders and push home the first attack on Ojinaga this morning.

Presidio, Texas, Nov. 14.—Mexican troops evacuated Ojinaga at eight-thirty o'clock tonight and came to the American side where they surrendered their arms. General Juan Espinosa y Cordova, commander surrendered to American troops in command of Captain Theodore Barnes, Jr., commander of American troops here. He said the fighting was hand-to-hand before the evacuation. Villa troops now occupy the Mexican town. Many were killed, wounded and executed.

Most authentic reports place the strength of the Villa forces at fifteen hundred.

The fighting was confined to the streets of Ojinaga and the municipal plaza since the attack opened at twilight.

Being in position to leap at the defenders of the little cluster of abode huts called a town, the Villa forces swept past the outpost like a wave of fire and charged down the streets and into the military headquarters. The rout started soon after 8 o'clock and in half an hour the evacuation had become a mob seeking safety on the American side of the river. The federal troops were rounded up by American patrols, disarmed and marched to the army camp where they were guarded.

The Villa troops number 1,000 according to the Mexican command.

Wounded Soldiers Cross Line.

Presidio, Texas, Nov. 14.—Wounded soldiers and fleeing citizens from the Ojinaga garrison started coming to the American side today and were being brought into camp here and placed in a temporary stockade established by Captain Theodore Barnes, Jr., commander here. One of the wounded soldiers was Captain Marino Avila. He had two bullet wounds thru the body. Another federal soldier was shot thru the arm. Fifty prisoners, also were brought into camp this morning.

Mexican Consul Cosmo Bengoechea, received a report from General Espinosa y Cordova saying the enemy had been completely routed and that the federal losses were small. Villa and his men fled toward Mulato according to the consul. He also received a report that the streets of Ojinaga were dotted with Villa dead and a number of wounded had been made prisoners.

All agree that Villa was in personal command of the attacking forces and was recognized.

PREMIER LLOYD GEORGE FACES SHARP CRISIS

LONDON, Tuesday, Nov. 13.—Premier Lloyd George on his return from his hurried trip to Constantinople and hearten Great Britain ally, Italy, finds himself faced by the sharpest crisis of his career as prime minister. The crisis is one which may result possibly in a vote of want of confidence by parliament which would be followed automatically by his resignation. No action taken by any British government since the beginning of the war has caused such a maelstrom of criticism, speculation and symptoms of uneasiness as to the announcement of the formation of an international war council composed of cabinet ministers of Great Britain, France and Italy with a military committee representing the three nations which later is to be in constant session at Versailles. The questions being asked are whether such a vital change is necessary, whether it will bring effective control of the campaign and particularly how far the military trinity will supersede or overlap the management of British operations by the general staff of the army.

BIRDS MUST HAVE CRUMBS

Chicago, Nov. 14.—A warning not to carry conservation of food to such an extent that the birds will be left without crumbs is contained in a bulletin today by Orpheus M. Schantz, president of the Illinois Audubon society. The bulletin declares that birds save thousands of tons of food yearly by destroying pests and points out that to deny them food during the winter months will mean their extermination.

Gov. Lowden seems to believe that the people of this state have enough on hand at the present time,
without indulging in a special session of the legislature.

"Don't stuff your husband, husband your stuff," says a good expert.
That sounds all right but how about living with a hungry husband?

It is said that many card clubs are taking up knitting and that the topic of conversation has changed in gatherings of women. It is not the latest style, or of the most recent bonnet, but what they have to eat,
and how they are managing to economize on the food question. The interest is evidently very large.

The national administration expresses the opinion that the war may last five years. Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer of the British empire, says that there is no prospect of an early end. So grit your teeth and prepare for a long siege.

MAJOR GERALD W. BIRKS
(Canada):

"The Y. M. C. A. is an absolutely essential part of the Allied army.
Its work is to supply a touch of home; it is a home away from home.
It asks for money, not for itself, but to do the work for your boys which you would do for them if they were here."

MORE CHEESE AND LESS MEAT.

If you are looking for meat substitutes to use on meatless day you may be interested in this suggestion
from "The Farm and Fireside."
"The making of cheese on the farm and its increased consumption is advocated by those conversant with the food situation. It is one of the best substitutes for meat, and is relatively inexpensive and prepared without a great deal of trouble.

"Europe has long recognized the value of cheese as a supplement to its meat diet. In the year 1911 the people of Holland consumed 8.07 pounds of cheese per person. The average consumption by the American is a little less than 3.5 pounds."

Mr. Davison has already given out several detailed statements of the manner in which the funds are apportioned and expended, and has recently made a statement regarding the number and compensation of paid employees at the national headquarters in Washington. This statement shows that although there has been an increase of 60 per cent in membership, the number of paid employees has decreased 254 since July 15. Salaries are shown to be no higher than paid in private employment. It is worth while for the management of any semi-public institution to take the public into its confidence. Such a policy is vastly different from that followed by some of the governmental agencies which oppose efforts of the duly chosen representatives of the people in Congress to get information as to the manner in which the public money is being expended.

A CONTRAST.

When we consider the sea trip
our boys in khaki are to take, the foreign lands they are to see, and the ovation they will everywhere receive, it is scarcely to be wondered that the most intelligent among them are the most eager to go. The cause for which we fight and the glorious adventure element in this war are so irresistible in their appeal to ardent, chivalrous natures nurtured in the best American traditions that many college classes have dwindled to the vanishing point. Some of the unhappiest young men in our land and the most resentful of their fate are splendid fellows who have knocked in vain at every branch of the service only to be rejected for under weight or some physical deficiency or defect. Many of these have offered their services to the Dominion of Canada and have been accepted, and others have gone abroad at their own expense to enter

Keep the Home Ties from Breaking

America's entrance into the great war meant millions of our boys in training camps in this country and at the front
"Somewhere in France." Patriotic citizens at once raised the question "Who will keep the home ties from breaking when our sons join the colors?"

The Young Men's Christian Association assumes this tremendous responsibility with confidence because of their notably successful experience during the Spanish-American War and with our troops on the Mexican border, because of the heroic interest of their many splendid supporters, because of the earnestness with which government officials co-operate and because there seems to be a supreme opportunity to render practical Christian service.

Millions of soldiers have left the home touch and have had their manhood safeguarded. Only a beginning has been made. In fact the greatest possibilities of service for the RED TRIANGLE undoubtedly are ahead. The RED TRIANGLE follows our soldier boys wherever they go on land or sea.

the ambulance service or to find some other field of usefulness connected with the war. The Keokuk Gazette says in contrast with these are men of whom every city has a few who are so unnerfed when called to the colors that all their manhood breaks down and their sense of shame is lost. Such is the panic fear in which they find themselves that public contempt is nothing to them.
No means of escape is too dishonorable for them to jump at, and they will even mutilate themselves in painful ways in order to be rejected by examining boards. Perhaps we cannot properly sit in judgment on such persons. There are abnormalities in human nature we cannot understand; and when we find a man in a thousand who seems to be an exception to all known rules we shall not err in attribution of it to mental aberration or some deviation from type which is rather his misfortune
than his fault.

THE REASONS WHY.

Somebody asks why the army branch of the Y. M. C. A. needs as large a sum as $35,000,000 for its work in camps and at the front.
There are several sufficient reasons;
here are some that are mentioned by those in position to know the size of this undertaking and as summarized by the Decatur Review.

The job is the biggest one in the world's history.

There are 38,000,000 men under arms, and of these 27,000,000 are Allies.

By the first of next July there will be two and one half million Americans under arms, on land and on sea.

The total cost of this war is put
at $160,000,000 a day, a figure undreamed until this war came on.

It is proposed to spend $25,000,- 000 in looking after the comfort of American soldiers for the next nine months, $10 to the man.

And that will leave only $10,000,- 000 to be devoted to looking after 22,000,000 Russian, French and Italian soldiers. These are our Allies and need help.

Were it not that the Y. M. C. A.
people have learned to stretch a dollar to make it do the work of two or three, they could not hope to accomplish anything with the little $35,000,000 they ask.

That sum is but a drop in the bucket in the kind of fight that is now on. But the Y. M. C. A. organization will make it reach somehow.

RELIABILITY OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Associated Press is getting a reputation for accuracy all over the world. It is entitled to this, for it has worked hard to deserve it. It may not always get a story 100 per cent accurate, but that is the mark at which it is always shooting. And every man who works for it is instructed on this point. The most reliable news stories in the world come from this Associated Press. It is desired that all readers of newspapers understand this. If you hear it told by the Associated Press you can be sure it is correct as it is possible to get the story in the limited time. Also you can be sure that trained men have been on the job of putting the story together, and every one of these understands that accuracy is the first quality expected of him. It is a policy that is winning its way in the world.

KEEP WORKING FOR
UNCLE SAM.

What have you done to help your country? Anything? Perhaps you began when the call first came, to work zealously for the Red Cross, knitting and making surgical dressings. Perhaps you devoted three or four hours a week to the work at first, but after a time your interest wore off and you don't work quite so wholeheartedly or so regularly.
Perhaps you nodded wisely when your neighbor said: "I think they are overdoing this Red Cross work.
I don't see how they can ever use all the stuff that's being made."

Perhaps—oh, we hope you didn't,
but perhaps you did say, "That's just the way I feel about it. I've decided not to devote so much time to it."

But whether you said that or not,
just stop a moment and think—hard.

"Over there" there are great surgeons who work twenty hours out of the twenty-four, standing ankle deep in blood. "Over there" there are soldiers, dying, perhaps, whose wounds are wrapped in newspapers
—because there are not enough bandages! And then we dare to think we women are doing "too much," giving up too much time,

making more than they can use.

Let us never voice such a thought.
Let's not slacken our speed nor our interest, but work, work, work. Let's do our bit and then a bit more.—Exchange.

Rippling Rhymes
By WALT MASON

THE CHEERFUL MOTORIST
I crawl beneath my balky car,
with fifteen kinds of wrenches,
and tinker where its vitals are, 'mid gas
and grease and stench. When done
I am a sight to see, a sight for sore-eyed dragons; and passing horses shy at me, run off and bust their wagons. I skid into a muddy ditch, and hail some passing granger, to bring his mules along and hitch,
and haul me out of danger. I wallow round in squishy mire, cold rain upon me drizzling, removing from the wheel a tire, and use some language sizzling. Sometimes the lamp won't shed a ghost of their accustomed splendor, and then I run into a post and break a costly fender. A farmer stops me now and then, and ask me in his dander, to pay for running down his hen, his sheepdog or his gander. O'er arid hills I jaunt along, through meadows cool and ferny, and something's always going wrong, wherever I may journey.
But when I motor home again, from my adventures shocking, and mangle
with familiar men, you ought to hear me talking! "I had the finest time," I glib, while truth grows vague and hazy, "no accident on all the trip—
my car is sure a daisy!"

DEATHS

Bedding.

Mrs. Amanda Redding died at 7:30 p. m. Monday at the home of her son in Springfield. Deceased was born in Morgan county May 22, 1841
and was the daughter of Henry and Caroline Gilmore, who settled five miles southeast of Jacksonville.
When four years old her parents moved to Greene county where she resided until womanhood. She was married to James Redding Nov. 7, 1858 and moved to a home near Pisgah. On the breaking out of the Civil war Mr. Redding enlisted in the 11th Illinois cavalry under Col. R.
G. Ingersoll and served his country four years as a faithful soldier. On his return from the army he removed to Greene county and remained there for a short time, then went to Palmira where he remained until 1882, when the family went back to Greene county and remained seven years and then removed to Jacksonville. Mr. Redding died April 24, 1894. Two years ago Mrs. Redding removed to Springfield and resided with her son at 1815 South First street. She was a faithful member of the Baptist church and was a member of the Woman's Relief corps
of this city. She leaves four sons, Enoch E. of North Chicago; Charles W. Jacksonville; Louis A. and Robert E. of Springfield; two daughters, Mrs. Alva Smith of St. Louis and Mrs. Emel living near Pittsfield.
The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Baptist church, in charge of Rev. A. A. Todd.

WITH THE SICK

George Schulz is quite seriously ill
but at last reports was a little better.

Rev. W. E. Spoonits is slowly improving from his recent severe illness and hopes in a few weeks to be about.

Joseph Gomes is suffering with a very lame foot. In trimming a nail
he cut too deeply and blood poisoning followed. He has been laid up for some time and will be a cripple
for some days yet, altho it is trusted nothing serious will develop.

George Simpkins, who has been seriously ill at his home four miles southwest of the city was last night reported to be in a critical condition.

The lady who expects to buy

trophies of their skill sixty four ducks, of which they are pardonably proud.

First Baptist Church.

The Pastor's Aid society of First Baptist church met at the church parlors Wednesday afternoon. The ladies spent a busy afternoon sewing
for the Red Cross and other chari-

Pastor's Aid of First Baptist church is surely doing its bit these days.

the Knights of Columbus' hall Tues-

a large increase in number. Mrs.
Buckley, directress of the sewing department, reports gratifying results
in the amount of work accomplished.
The knitters were somewhat handicapped on account of shortage in yarn supply, still Mrs. Degen will deliver a good number of finished garments to the Red Cross shop today.

It is hoped next Tuesday will see the yarn shortage remedied, and that all the workers can thereby show greater results from the half day's service
they cheerfully pledged to the cause of national defense.

The Marys and Marthas Class of Grace M. E. church held the regular monthly social with Mrs. D. E. Ken-

port of the Springfield association which was held in Springfield Octo-

discontinued serving refreshments in compliance with the request of Mr.

servation. During the afternoon the ladies plied their knitting and other work while listening to the dis-party of the W. R. C. was held at the home of Mrs. Lulu Weakley, 228 West College street Wednesday afternoon. There was a large number present and the time was spent knitting for the Red Cross. Mrs. Naomi Wharton conducted a guessing contest, "Can You Talk Turkey," which was greatly enjoyed by all. A parcel post sale was held which netted a neat sum for the treasury. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses who were Mrs. Mary Waller, Mrs. Emma Funk, Mrs. Na-omia Wharton, Belle Hopper, Mrs.

Murdock, Jane DeFries, Rose De-Fries, Lulu Weakley.

Ladies' Aid of the Catholic church
at her home on West North street Wednesday afternoon. There was a goodly number in attendance at the

after which refreshments were served. Mrs. Bieber is superintendent of the cradle roll, on which thirty eight little tots are enrolled. Most of them were present at the party yesterday afternoon. One little tot, Dorothy Mae Smith, thought she would surprise those present and took her first step. After she found that her little feet could carry her she walked all around the room. Mrs. A. P. Vasconcellos, assistant of the primary department, and Mrs. W. E. Spoonits

How Long Must I Suffer From the Pangs of Rheumatism?

Is there no real relief in sight?

Doubtless like other sufferers, you have often asked yourself this question, which continues to remain unanswered.

Science has proven that your rheumatism is caused by a germ in your blood, and the only way to reach it is by a remedy which eliminates and removes these little pain demons from your blood. This explains why liniments and lotions can do no permanent good, for they cannot possibly reach the germs which infest your blood by the millions.

S. S. S. has been successfully used for Rheumatism for more than fifty years. Try it to-day, and you will find yourself at last on the right track to get rid of your Rheumatism. You can get valuable advice about the treatment of your individual case by writing to the Chief Medical Adviser, Swift Specific Co., Dept. D Atlanta, Ga.

THE MINISTER A MAN AMONG MEN.

By Rev. W. W. Henry, Havana

The call for an epistle upon the above subject would indicate that the minister as a rule is not sufficiently a man among men. He is too much of a recluse—a book-worm; a pastor of the Ladies Aid Society; a kind of necessary nuisance, floating about among the women and children of his flock, impelled to walk the ministerial treadmill by established custom.

From remarks which I often hear, and overhear, there must be a too widely spread opinion that the "domineer" is a timid, docile creature, whose delicate constitution cannot endure the knocks and shocks in the field where men play the game of life at fever heat. If this criticism be true, from the very force of habit, he would gradually lose that self-assertive bearing which would prevent him from becoming a non-entity and a greenhorn among men.

What kind of a preacher? that's the question. Some one has written:

"A parson down in Boston must have learning and ability.

A parson in Chicago must have hustle and agility.

A Philadelphia parson must preach eternal rest.

Gothem loves a parson with a Wall-Street brand of piety.

With epigrams and epigrams he entertains society.

But nothing but a man Will suit the wild and woolly west."

But that is jingle, 'tho' it was meant for poetry. It has the fault of being only partially true. The manly man is a fit,—east, west, north and south.

The minister should go out where men are. He should pause a little while where men gather in knots upon the street corners, in front of the post office, and in the hotel lobby to discuss politics. In all of these places he should remember his bearing is to be that of a kindly, dignified, brotherly man, with the insistence of a personality that is not for a moment to be trifled with. He may attend farmers' institutes, stock breeders' conferences and political caucuses as an independent citizen, who is willing to be a learner of all with which his community has to do. He should visit factories, shops, and railroad camps as a man, simply as a man among men, and for the Master's sake.

He should take an active interest in all that concerns the general welfare of a community. A minister in a rural district beheld a crushing scourge of hog cholera. He called a few farmers together and told them they had a right to the services of a state expert. He was sent for, and thru his masterly work the plague was stayed. An old farmer said: "That preacher is alright; I don't know much about his theology but he saved my pigs;" and another point was scored for the church by the man side of the ministry.

The average minister is studious, and there will be a strong temptation to stay by the kindly disposed and loving friends upon the library shelf; but the day of gown and slippers is gone forever; and the sky pilot must plunge into the busy stream of life and do his "bit for many men in many needs."

Many of our brethren, seeing the coarseness, the profanity and the folly among men, have given up the task of making friends there, or of doing any permanent good, as one of the impossibles. They have become a cynic, a pessimist or a recluse; and pass and repass with men as a thing they must endure rather than enjoy.

This writer does not agree with those brethren who take the shady side of the road. We love the sunshine and the hot time. Yours truly will be found where men are. We shall be there to see the fun if it is anything else. Men are the funniest things in the world. We claim no kinship with your pessimistic group; we are like an old colored parson who said: "Breddern, I am an opossum-ist."

The hearts of men ache, and they think and feel deeply, and respond to a manly life and a manly word as truly as do our wives and mothers; and when properly appealed to are fully as religious.

Mixing will be an individual matter. Take your own initiative. The great writers have written about everything else, but upon the subject of living with men, or harmonizing them and of reversing their life tendencies, and of mobilizing them for the Master, the pens have moved very slowly. Well, the man-hunt is the biggest game of life; and the biggest results follow the successful chase. Already brethren: "Lay aside every weight" and enter the race.

There was one who came to make this adjustment among men, for each other and for God. The Man of Galilee has been criticised as a man of one aim—but what an aim! It was an aim which the whole world, save Christ and his Church, has shunned; that of making a new heaven and a new earth.

Mr. Moody said that for some years before entering the ministry he set himself the task of asking at least one man each day, "Are you a Christian?" This was one of the mighty forces that made his name a world power. Notice that he was never known as "Hon." or "Dr." or "Lord," or "Earl," or even "Reverend," but Dwight L. Moody, the man.

One writer says that concerning this subject that it requires "the balanced carriage of the whole man; the poise of the body, the maintenance of perfect health, the control of the temperament, with its special talent or weakness; the use of reason, its development and culture; the control of its aberrations; the correction of its aberrations; it involves a mastery of the emotions; it concerns conscience, conversation, friendship, and all the elements af-fictional and social; civic and moral.

The true minister is used to standing eye to eye with a big job and must so look at this one. We must meet with men as they move in their own element. We must preach among them by look, by salvation, by sympathy and interest in their tasks, by being a silent listener, by the offering of some timely, brief prayer-begotten word. We will meet men at their worst and at their best. We will see them at work and at play; we will see them as wise and otherwise. What preparation shall we make? What armor shall we put on? He that goeth forth out not knowing whether he shall go or what he shall meet; with what habiliments shall he regale himself.

He must go among men with a purpose and for a purpose. Men are potent quantities, that need reining and vitalizing; afterward they need to be manipulated, mobilized and made into virile forces for good. How to be used by men, and how to use men, "that's the question. How, thru men, without marring, injuring, cheating or neglecting them, to make the most of men for this life and for the world to come is the "glad game," as Pollyanna would say.

HAS WATER SUPPLY

Byron Armstrong, proprietor of the Armstrong drug store on the southwest corner of the square, thinks that he has solved Jacksonville's water problem. A few days ago the janitor reported that there were several inches of water in the basement around the heating plant. The water disappeared and a plumber was called but could discover no place from which the water came. Yesterday the water again came into the basement to a depth of several inches. No place could be discovered from whence it came and Mr. Armstrong is thinking of inviting the city to connect with his basement and pump the water into the city mains to relieve the present shortage.

H. A. McLaughlin of Springfield spent some time in the city yesterday.

THOMAS C. JENKINSON WEDS MISS MEDA DUNCAN

Ceremony Was Said by Rev. M. L. Pontius at Home of Bride's Parents in Mt. Sterling—Number of Jacksonville People Attend—Couple Will Reside in Blooming-ton.

Thomas C. Jenkinson of Blooming-ton and Miss Meda Duncan of Mt. Sterling were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents in that city at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The Rev. Myron L. Pontius pastor of Central Christian church of this city officiated and the ring service was used. Only relatives and immediate friends witnessed the ceremony. The bride wore a handsome gown of white crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and snap dragons. The wedding march was played by Miss Ruth Duncan sister of the bride. Before the ceremony Miss Marie Twombly of Mt. Sterling sang "Just You" by M. T. Burleigh and "Because" by Guy D'Hardelot. Following the ceremony a two course luncheon was served. The bride cut the wedding cake. The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a brief wedding tour after which they will be at home in Blooming-ton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Duncan of Mt. Sterling who formerly resided in this city. For a number of years she has been employed at the Peacock Inn as stenographer. She is a member of Central Christian church and has taken an active part in the work of that body. She is a young woman whose charm of manner has won for her many friends.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Jenkinson of this city and was born and reared here. He was in the employ of W. W. Gilman here going to Blooming-ton where he holds a position with A. Beck, one of the leading funeral directors of that city. He is a young man who made many friends during his residence in this city.

Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Jenkinson and daughter, Miss Gene Jenkinson, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jenkinson, Miss Lana McPhail, Miss Maude Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Long, Mrs. Clement, James Guyette, Mrs. H. C. Clement, Miss Alice Mathis, Miss Helen J. this, Miss Frances English of Jacksonville, Mrs. James Pyatt of Arnold and Mrs. Harry Goodrick of Springfield.

AT WESTMINSTER CHURCH
Dr. Frank Gilman, missionary to China who is making a brief visit in Jacksonville, was present at Westminster church prayer service Wednesday evening and made a brief address. Dr. Gilman, who has been for thirty years a missionary in China, talks in a very interesting way of the work there. He reviewed some changes which have taken place in comparatively recent months and gave the guests present at the service a much better idea of conditions in China than they had before. Dr. Gilman and his daughter, Miss Janet, are now on their way to Hoihow-Haihan, China.

Women of Westminster spent the greater part of Wednesday at the church sewing for needy children of the city. Last Sunday Dr. Landis read from the pulpit a request for women to bring garments that could be made over for children. There was a generous response and a great deal of work was done. Another sewing is to be held next Wednesday. It is the plan of Westminster women and others in the city to see to it that work among the needy poor does not lag even during war times.

PLANS FOR WAR SAVINGS MOVEMENT

Newly Appointed Directors Will Confer With Treasury Officials Today

Washington, Nov. 14.—Newly appointed state directors of the war savings movement at their first conference tomorrow with treasury officials will formulate plans by which they expect to make war savings certificates or stamps the most popular Christmas gift throughout the country. Frank A. Vanderlip, chairman of the government's war savings committee, will tell the directors that it is important to conduct an intensive campaign in every state during the holiday season and for at least a month afterward to start the war savings habit, from which the government hopes to reap loans aggregating two billion dollars within a year.

Also the campaign will not open formally until December 3, posters and other advertising matter will be displayed in every locality within the next ten days, it was announced today. The state directors have less than three weeks in which to organize their forces, choose advisory committee and designate the multitude of places where the thrift savings stamps are to be placed on sale.

The state directors, whose appointment was announced today, will listen to addresses tomorrow by Mr. Vanderlip, Secretary McAdoo, Postmaster General Burleson, British treasury, who has directed a similar war savings plan in his country. They will also confer with their district directors six of whom have been named.

Friday the state directors will call on President Wilson who is expected to give hearty endorsement to the war savings plan.

"SILO JAG" GAINS FAVOR

Dixon, Ill., Nov.—The "Silo jag" is gaining favor among farm hands now that the government has stopped the manufacture of whiskey and what is offered for sale is more expensive in price to the additional war tax. And incidentally the new "joy juice" is making much trouble for farmers whose hired hands are not teetotalers. A hole is bored close to the base of the silo, and a spigot is inserted, thru which a heavy liquid trickles. Two tablespoonsful are sufficient it is said, to make even a confirmed toper's head swim. Farmers have been obliged in some cases, to put steel bands around the lower part of their silos to prevent the boring of holes.

PLACES LARGE CANDY ORDER

Freeport, Ill., Nov.—Even the candy has advanced considerably in price, William Ascher, Freeport contractor, who has played Santa Claus to the children of Freeport every Christmas for a quarter of a century, will remember his little friends as usual this year. Mr. Ascher has placed an order for a ton of candy, thousands of toys, two score boxes of oranges and apples, from which the gift packages to be distributed at his office on Christmas day will be made up. A week in advance of the holiday force of young women will start filling the gift boxes, so when the line forms in front of Ascher's offices every youngster may be served promptly. Mr. Ascher has spent thousands of dollars for Freeport children.

"BIG BROTHERS" SOCIETY DOES GOOD WORK

Brother of Nathan Carpenter, Now at Cantonment, Spends Day at Barracks.

Earl Carpenter of Jacksonville returned yesterday after a few days' visit with his brother, Nathan Carpenter, at Camp Zachary Taylor. Earl left last Sunday, arriving at the camp Monday morning. He states that all of the local boys are well and seemingly enjoying army life. His brother Nathan is a member of the remount station. This particular depot looks after the sick horses of the camp and is located about two and one-half miles from Camp Taylor proper and about a mile from Louisville. There are four stables capable of caring for fifty horses each. EDMUND BLACKBURN'S BIRTHDAY OBSERVED

Members of the family of Edmund Blackburn and a number of relatives gathered at the Blackburn home northwest of Jacksonville Wednesday night in observance of Mr. Blackburn's eighty-fourth birthday. The guests arrived in time for supper and then spent several hours afterward in a very pleasant way. Ever since Mr. Blackburn became eighty years of age there have been annual observances of his birthday. It is with great satisfaction that his sons and daughters and relatives not so closely related find each year that he is still much stronger than many men twenty years less in age. Although he has days when he must remain indoors, for the most part Mr. Blackburn is still able to attend to some duties on the farm and he makes a trip to Jacksonville almost weekly. He received a number of postcards and letters as pleasant reminder of his anniversary, and especially appreciated a letter written in verse by his nephew, Frederick Masters, a Kansas City business man.

SCRIBBLERS AHOY!

The guy who raves (his name is Graves, Walt Mason's understudy) about the fight in verses light is sure some cheerful buddy. The boys we take across the lake to can the bloody kaiser will have a job to get the wiser. To take the Teuton, calls for shootin' shells instead of verses. To help the boys, just cut the nores, and open up your purses. The scribbler too, if he can do a stunt to help the issue, should spare the time it takes to rime his lines of flimsy tissue. If he is skilled, then let him build his tower to help the Britain. But if it's chaff, give him the laugh, and put him at some knittin'.

THIRD U. S. BATTALION ENTERS TRENCHES

WITH THE AMERICA... Army in France, Tuesday, Nov. 13.—(By The Associated Press)—The third series of American battalions is now occupying the first line and the second American detachments to enter the trenches have returned to their billets. The relief was accomplished on a brilliant starlight night without the knowledge of the Germans.

Included among the returning troops is the company which bore the brunt of the recent raid on the American trenches. At retreat this evening this company lined up in a little muddy street in a village nestling under a hill some miles from the front. Their clothes were caked with mud and the roofs and fences nearby were hung with wet blankets and equipment.

Openings here and there in the ranks showed how many men had been killed, wounded and made prisoners in the trench fight. After the company was dismissed an officer of the battalion watched the men splash off through the mud and said: "There goes the scrappiest bunch of soldiers in France. They are mad all through and are just biding their time till they get a chance to repay the Germans for what happened to their comrades. They will get their revenge before this war is over. You can depend on that."

The second return battalions today were going through the same series of bathing and cleaning as the first detachment. The men are to enjoy several days' rest before taking up the training work again.

Don't be alarmed because we have so many farms to sell—as soon as one is sold we have a cash buyer for another farm. That is our business.

REGISTERED MEN DIVIDED INTO FIVE CLASSES

Plans Officially Announced in Provost Marshal General's Questionnaire Which Every Man Must Fill Out and File.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The five classes into which five million men registered for military duty — and those who are registered hereafter — are divided and the order in which they will be called for service were officially announced today in the provost marshal general's questionnaire which every registered man must fill out and file. The order shows some change from the tentative draft published some time ago.

Contrary to some published reports it does not exempt married men as a class, but it does place married men with dependent wives and children far down on the list of liabilities. In fact, the questionnaire indicates that only men of the first class will be called to the colors except in the gravest emergency. The five official classifications of registrants follow:

Class One

(A) A single man without dependent relatives.

(B) Married man with or without children, or father of motherless children, who has habitually failed to support his family.

(C) Married man dependent on wife for support.

(D) Married man, with or without children, or father or motherless children; man not usefully engaged, family supported by income independent of his father.

(E) Unskilled farm laborer.

(F) Unskilled industrial laborer. Registrant by or in respect of whom no deferred classification is claimed or made.

Registrant who fails to submit questionnaire and in respect of whom no deferred classification is claimed or made.

All registrants not included in any other division in this schedule.

Class Two

(A) Married man with children or father of motherless children, where such wife or children or such motherless children are not mainly dependent upon his labor for support for the reason that there are other reasonably certain sources of adequate support (excluding earnings or possible earnings from the labor of the wife) available, and that the removal of the registrant will not deprive such dependents of support.

(B) Married men, without children, whose wife, although the registrant is engaged in a useful occupation, is not mainly dependent upon his labor for support, for the reason that the wife is skilled in some special class of work which she is physically able to perform and in which she is employed, or in which there is an immediate opening for her under conditions that will enable her to support herself decently and without suffering or hardship.

(C) Necessary skilled farm laborer in necessary agriculture enterprise.

(D) Necessary skilled industrial laborer in necessary industrial enterprise.

Class Three

(A) Man with dependent children (not his own) but toward whom he stands in relation of parent.

(B) Man with dependent aged or infirm parents.

(C) Man with dependent helpless brothers or sisters.

(D) County or municipal officer.

(E) Highly trained fireman or policeman, at least three years in service of municipality.

(F) Necessary custom house clerk.

(G) Necessary employee of United States in transmission of the mails.

(H) Necessary artificer or workman in United States armory or arsenal.

(I) Necessary employee in service of United States.

(J) Necessary assistant, associate or hired manager of necessary agricultural enterprise.

(K) Necessary highly specialized technical or mechanical expert of necessary industrial enterprise.

(L) Necessary assistant or associate manager of necessary industrial enterprise.

Class Four

(A) Man whose wife or children are mainly dependent on his labor for support.

(B) Mariner actually employed in sea service of citizen or merchant in the United States.

(C) Necessary sole managing, controlling or directing head of necessary agricultural enterprise.

(D) Necessary sole managing, controlling, or directing head of necessary industrial enterprise.

Class Five

(A) Officers—legislative, executive or judicial of the United States or of state, territory, or District of Columbia.

(B) Regular or duly ordained minister of religion.

(C) Student who on May 18, 1917, was preparing for ministry in recognized school.

(D) Persons in military or naval service of United States.

(E) Alien enemy.

(F) Resident alien (not an enemy) who claims exemption.

(G) Person totally and permanently physically or mentally unfit for military service.

(H) Person morally unfit to be a soldier of the United States.

(I) Licensed pilot, actually employed in the pursuit of his vocation.

Member of well recognized religious sect or organization, organized and existing on May 18, 1917, whose then existing creed or principles forbid its members to participate in war in any form, and whose religious convictions are against war or participation therein.

Legal and medical advisory boards now being organized in every community will aid the registrant in making his answers.

The questions on the subject of dependents are framed to meet every possible circumstance and to draw out every bit of information that might be of value to the boards in fixing the class to which a man is to be assigned.

Seven days are allowed registrants after receipt of the questionnaire to fill it out and return it to the local board. Officials here believed that classification by the boards will be a routine process requiring little time.

Best available estimates indicate that the first of the five classes into which all draft registrants are to be divided will contain more than two million men, subject for duty with the colors before any man in any other class will be called up.

It is regarded as practically certain that congress will take up the question of extending the draft law to cover men who have attained the age of 21 since it was enacted. Should that be done and provision made for the registration thereafter of every man as he reached that age, it is probable that perhaps 600,000 would be added to class one automatically by next March. In that event no present plans for the army would reach the men in class 2.

DOKAYS WILL HOLD BIG CEREMONIAL

Members of Ilderim Temple Plan Big Doings for Evening of December 10—Royal Vizier Godfrey Announces Committees—Large Class of Tyros Expected.

The members of Ilderim Temple are making plans for their fall ceremonial which will be held on Monday evening, Dec. 10th. The Dokays like other orders feel the effect of the war, but realize one way to help win the war is, to keep the Tiger properly fed and the home fires burning.

The order has at least twenty of its members who have answered the country's call and are now in training, also two members of the drill team are now and have been for some time on the battle fields of France. Many more may be called before the conflict is ended and it is needless to say, a soldier after crossing the Khorassan Desert is in perfect trim for service.

Royal Vizier Godfrey has appointed the following committees:

BEAUTIFUL WORK OF

L. W. C. GIRLS

The young ladies of the Illinois Woman's colleg have recently produced four illustrated posters which are indeed very beautiful.

One of them represents a Y. M. C. A. tent in the background, soldiers marching in front, and labeled "The Power Behind the Guns—Help the Army Y. M. C. A."

Another one is a poster with a grim picture of the German emperor mistily in the background, while in front are girls plowing and working in various ways and the words, "The Y. M. C. A. War Fund can Reach Our War Prisoners—Give to the War Fund."

The features of another poster are three large links. One link is a soldier in uniform, the second link is the war fund of the Y. M. C. A. and the third link represents the home.

The fourth poster represents a soldier's full figure, with open arms holding a flag behind him and uttering the words, "It is Our Fight."

Below are the words, "Help the Y. M. C. A. War Fund."

These are being distributed about the city where it is hoped that they will do the most good.

TRY "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS IF SICK OR BILIOUS

Tonight! Clean Your Bowels and Stop Headache, Colds, Sour Stomach

Get a 10 cent box now. Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and bad colds—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels, or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10 cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken.—Adv.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR, DOUBLE ITS BEAUTY

Try This! Hair Gets Thick, Glossy, Wavy and Beautiful At Once

Immediate?—yes! Certain?—that is the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents.—Adv.

WILSON'S RIGHT HAND

Col. House Has Been Called the Assistant President.

Colonel Edward M. House, assistant President of the United States, is the unique place occupied by Woodrow Wilson's right hand by the mysterious Texan, who is now in Europe as the personal representative of the President at the Allied war conference.

There are certain features of the war program and certain plans, chiefly of an economic nature, which the United States desires to impress upon her allies. If Col. House succeeds in his mission, he may be rated as one of the greatest of all living diplomats, in the opinion of the inner circle, which is fully acquainted with the long list of assignments which President Wilson has given him.

Next to the Chief magistrate of the nation, it is safe to say that Edward Mandell House is the most influential citizen of the United States today. Although he holds no official position and never has held any, he far outweighs cabinet officers and bureau chiefs in Washington affairs. He may not be the power behind the presidential chair, but he is the power alongside of it.

He is a figure without parallel in the political history of the United States.

Other presidents have had their intimate advisers. But Col. House is unlike any of them.

The so-called "kitchen cabinets" of past Administrations have been composed either of officeholders or seekers after presidential favor.

Col. House asks nothing for himself. He has more money than a man of his simple tastes could ever spend. He hates the limelight with an intensity that bars him from public office. He is neither philanthropist nor reformer. He represents no interests, either political or financial.

This is the third time the Colonel has been called upon to cross the ocean since Europe became enveloped in war. After his first mission abroad he gave the President just what he wanted—a clear-cut view of the tangled situation in war-swept Europe. He came back with no dreams or enthusiasms on the subject of peace. Some months later he again visited Europe to find out the general political atmosphere in the various capitals, particularly in Berlin, and to straighten out some delicate diplomatic tangles. Now he has gone back again, this time as the head of the American war commission. As the head of this commission Col. House speaks officially for the government and may be regarded as the personal representative of the President as the commander in chief of the army and navy.

The position in which Colonel House has been placed by this latest commission from the President is unique. No other man in the political history of the country has ever occupied just this place. When he embarked on his first mission abroad he denied the President had asked his services. Now there is no attempt to conceal the fact that he is an official envoy.

The occupying no official office, Col. House may be regarded as virtually President Wilson's chief assistant in the conduct of American affairs.

His place as "assistant President" is not of recent development. Washington first received intimation of his remarkable abilities and influence soon after Mr. Wilson took office, when the Mexican reign of terror was creating the presidential brow. It was then that President Wilson developed the habit of dropping in on Col. House at New York.

Slowly but surely since the country has come to realize that an absolutely new and unique figure has arisen in American politics.

There have been political "bosses" at the side of presidents in the past. But Col. House is no boss: He controls no votes, he can swing no district, county or state. He wouldn't if he could.

He cannot be classified because there has never been any one quite like him. Therefore, he has been called "assistant President"—a new name for a new and puzzling figure.

SUPER CORD TIRES

TALK to the users of Firestone Super Cord Tires wherever you see them. They have a message worth many dollars to you. Lower cost per mile in tires and gasoline counts big these days, so here, there, everywhere Firestone Super Cords have become the goal of motorists.

These are Firestone Super Cord features that produce extraordinary performance. Numerous walls of stout cords. Pure gum separates cords and prevents friction. Extra thick cushion layer of pure gum under tread absorbs shocks and protects inner body of tire. Tough, thick, resilient tread.

Never Put a Croupy Child to Bed Without Giving a Dose of Foley's Honey and Tar

Mothers know it stops croup because it cuts the thick choking mucus, clears the throat of phlegm, stops the hoarse metallic cough, eases the difficult breathing, then quiet sleep.

Mrs. T. Neureuer, Eau Claire, Wis., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar completely cured my boy of a very severe attack of croup. We know from experience that it is a wonderful remedy for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough."

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' produced Olive Tablets, the best remedy for constipation.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 37 years and colonel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain cathartics, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping in the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown tablet" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headaches—torpid liver and constipated bowels—take quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

To Stop a Persistent, Hacking Cough

The best remedy is one you can easily make at home. Cheap but very effective.

Thousands of people normally healthy in every other respect, are annoyed with a persistent hacking or bronchial cough year after year, disturbing their sleep and making life disagreeable. It's so needless—there's an old home-made remedy that will end such a cough easily and quickly.

Get from any druggist "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" (60 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Begin taking it at once. Gradually but surely you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether, thus ending a cough that you never thought would end. It also promptly loosens a dry or tight cough, stops the troublesome throat tickle, soothes the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes, and relieves almost immediately. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma there is nothing better. It tastes pleasant and keeps perfectly.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is used by millions of people every year for throat and chest colds with splendid results.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

Our Society Again

By Ensley Moore

(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

Many people seem to accept things as they are as always having been, and not to realize how different conditions have been, especially during the past hundred years and even much later.

How People Got Here.

Passing the days of the French Explorers and the French settlers who followed them, and of George Rogers Clark and his valiant conqueror followers, the question comes, how did the present day citizens and their predecessors get here?

The Kelloggs, first settlers of Morgan county, came from Batavia, New York to Olean Point—now Olean—in that state, by wagons, as has already been told in these sketches. There, they took a flat or keel boat, on the Allegheny river, with all their belongings, somewhat in the style of the Ark, and floated down to Pittsburgh, the confluence of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, making the Ohio at its head; and down "The Beautiful River" of the French to Shawneetown, Illinois.

It is worth while just here to stop and think that the first of these confluent streams rose in the North, and that the second rose in Old Virginia; thus furnishing a water way for Northerner and Southerner to journey into the land yet to be of the Far West, now the Heart of America. Still more singular is the fact that this "Beautiful River" was to be the political dividing line between the North and the South, while natives of each section found freedom and homes for themselves and their descendants and became unflinching supporters of National Union in the woods of Ohio and Indiana and on the prairies of Illinois and Iowa. Talk of Argonauts seeking the golden fleece, here were patriots opening the highways of empire. It is well, today, to salute our soldier men; and it is also well to rise and salute the immortal men and women who opened this glorious heritage of freedom to us of today!

The Kelloggs took to their wagons at Shawneetown, and sailed over to the Sangamo country in their prairie schooners, landing here, now, "high onto a hundred year ago."

David Manchester, solitary and alone, floated down from Pittsburgh in a skiff, many others used canoes and more used flat boats, for the longer distances, then many from North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky rode like cavaliers into their land of tomorrow. The first Stephens came into the beginning of Jacksonville in that way, in 1829. John M. Ellis had "beat them to it" in January, 1828—having previously ridden into Kaskaskia on horseback thru Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and southern Illinois, with the Colgate in his head. Thousands of our best pioneers walked the ways of glory into the glowing west on foot.

But the wives and children must come, and the covered or "movers" wagon was the palace car in which they motored, largely with oxen to furnish the power and the husbands or brothers to swing the long whip chaffeurage them thru difficulties which even a "Ford" could not have pulled them.

Some artists of inspiration made a little silhouette, a few years ago, of two wagons, each drawn by a yoke of oxen, preceded by two men on horseback, one swinging a gun; with a young girl with a bundle and a woman also bearing a bundle and leading a little boy, between the wagons; all struggling up a hill. Beneath the picture were the words "The thin, brave line that made your country and mine." Who of us are not proud beyond words that some of "our people" came into Illinois in those chariots of greatness and of power?

Then people began landing on the shore of the Prairie State from many steamboats, which sometimes rode on the water and some times on the sand, and often lost their friends when the high pressure boilers sent them Heavenward, instead of into Illinois.

Stages—more properly to be called hacks, sometimes open wagons—hailed immigrants or land explorers from the steamboat landings, or from St. Louis, out into the center of our state. In those early days East St. Louis used to be called "Bloody Island," because then it had a disputed ownership between Illinois and Missouri, and was the scene of many duels. Today the dastardly doings of a few months ago renew the early name of the place.

We had early stage lines from Alton, and to Naples and Meredosia, and later on to other places. Mail came then, a good deal like Josh Billings said of his, word from a friend, "I got your letter by accident." Today we groan at a three cent stamp, then the same issue of Uncle Sam was welcomed as a boon, after postage had come down from ten or twenty five cents per letter—folded without an envelope. It was a great scheme then to send letters by friends, laying upon the traveler the duty in some distant town or city of finding the person to whom the missive was addressed. Merchants going East for goods "got wise" to the nuisance, and kept quiet as to their intended day of starting.

It was a great day of progress when people could come from New York by the Erie canal to Buffalo, thence by steamer "around the lakes" to Detroit or Chicago. Philadelphians could "stage it" over the mountains to boats at Pittsburgh. Baltimoreans and statesmen from Washington could take stages on the National road, by way of Cumberland, to the Ohio and its steamboats. New Englanders largely came into the north part of the state, after our people had driven out Black Hawk, and opened that region to settlement. The land between the Illinois and the Mississippi was largely given by the Government to soldiers of the War of 1812, and was known as the "Military Tract."

St. Louis.

Cincinnati, Ohio, became the "Queen City of the West" along about the beginning of the nineteenth century, but a greater metropolis soon exceeded her in business and population, as St. Louis grew away from its French and Spanish beginnings.

St. Louis from Laclede's lay out of it, grew into a depot for the American Fur company, and for individual trappers who thronged thru the old West. Nearly lead mines later gave employment to newcomers and riches to the Mound City, and in later times the Iron Mountain was another source of wealth. But probably the greatest aid to the growing town and city was its natural wealth of opportunity in the water ways leading to and from it. No city in the world has so central and convenient a river system—more's the pity that it is not still utilized as it might be, and probably will be! It had forty one hundred miles of Mississippi-Missouri navigation, with eight hundred more on the "Upper River." Into this came hundreds of miles of Wisconsin, Iowa, Des Moines and Illinois waters, while below St. Louis came in the affluent Ohio, with its confluent Allegheny, Monongahela, Kanawha, Scioto, Miami, Cumberland, Tennessee and Wabash rivers. South of the Ohio was the St. Francis, Black, Arkansas, Yazoo, Sunflower, the great Red river of the South, and other streams of lesser navigable value. All these had their steamboats from the western metropolis, entrepot and growing manufacturing point. Small wonder is it, then, that the river front of St. Louis was lined with steamers almost as far as one could see, some places two and three lying alongside of each other. It was a pretty sight, especially captivating, to youthful eyes and to juvenile dreams, for St. Louis was a national port, as New York or New Orleans were international. If the two latter places brought in the fortune seekers of all lands, millions of them had to come to St. Louis to get to the final resting places of their hopes or ambitions.

To the child of those broad and glowing days, those days of the opening of Uncle Sam's great West, St. Louis was a place to go, a place to get the color of France, the perfume of flowers and the fragrance of oranges, a place to see boats backing out, and dancing the waters like things of life, or coming in laden "to the guards" and crowded with expectant faces. It was a lifelong privilege to go "down to St. Louis," a lifelong delight to have gone there.

St. Louis grew greater and greater, until the day in 1861 when political treason raised its ignoble hand against the Great Republic, and then the sceptre of Mississippi Valley greatness passed to the Northern city in Illinois, and Chicago became the second American urban dwelling place. But St. Louis still grows, and is the second city of the great valley. In the days gone by our cattle and hogs and wheat and corn, and other things by the boat load fell into the ample lap of the oldest city of the middle West. St. Louis not only drew on Illinois to furnish it material wealth, but Jacksonville and Illinois gave it great business men, lawyers, a great preacher and scholar, teachers, manufacturers and beautiful women.

To many the City at the other end of the Great Bridge is only a smoky, hurrying place, to others it is a dream of the past, and hope, the great things in the future. Throughout its long history, colored with French and German and Slavery features, St. Louis is yet one of the most Western and American of great places. Even the Red Man touched it with the feather of his pipe of peace, and strode through its narrow old streets.

Steamboats.

The fine sidewheel steamers that used to visit the river landings of Morgan county were a means of travel and enjoyment not possible to this section, generally, today. It was sometimes a matter of days between Meredosia or Naples and St. Louis. The "Ladies Cabin" on a boat was a hall of enchantment; the "Men's Cabin" was a place of feasting. The Bar was a delusion and snare, and the forward end of the cabins was a place of sport where many a game of chance gave excitement to its votaries. In the cabins friends met and visited together. Men could talk politics and business, and women could rest and enjoy each other's society, or ply their arts in charming men. It was especially delightful, at pleasant times of year, to sit upon the "hurricane deck" or up in the pilot house and view the wonders of nature on our beautiful Illinois.

In the early days the steamers were generally manned by Irish deckhands, and it was always interesting to watch the landing and putting out or in of the stage plank, or to see how goods were put off or produce taken on board. The scene at night, lit up by fire from an iron basket of burning pineknots, which threw an uncertain glare about, was worth seeing. The Captain and the pilot, and the first clerk and the steward, were to be taken notice of. Occasionally there were deck passengers, down at the stern of the boat. These were generally foreigners, too poor to afford cabin passage. There were all sorts of phases of life and people to be seen on these boats, which the hurry and indifference of car travel give little in exchange for now, in interest or information.

But the bell is ringing, and we had better go ashore, before the boat carries us off.

"THE BIRD OF PARADISE" COMING MONDAY

Seven long, momentous years have not wrought any appreciable changes in Richard Walton Tully's celebrated ukelele drama, "The Bird of Paradise," which comes to the Grand next Monday.

It is said that since "The Bird" as it is familiarly called, was first produced in Los Angeles by Oliver Morosco it has been "flying" all over the United States with unvarying success and huge profits to its owners.

Miss Marion Hutchins, for the last five years playing leads in A. H. Woods' attractions will be the "Luana" this season. Other changes in the cast are Jack Ellis, J. Harrington, Rose Watson and Maude Farrington.

In the years that "The Bird of Paradise" has been on tour many changes have been made from time to time, but never has a second company been sent out. A high standard of excellence has been maintained both as to production and cast and to this fact must be attributed the lasting success of this remarkable and unique play of Hawaiian life.

The charm lies not only in its originality of theme, but the play also boasts of a "heart punch." It tells the pretty but pathetic love story of the little Hawaiian princess "Luana" who through no fault of hers, drags down the young American physician by falling in love with and marrying him. Soon comes a realization that intermarriage of the races never turn out happily and she ends it all by plunging into a fiery volcano.

Entertaining features of "The Bird of Paradise" are the Hawaiian singers, dancers and musicians who lend the proper atmosphere to the play. They are credited with making their native music popular in this country.

impossible until they had secured the names of more prospects. They reported that a great majority of persons they approached were expecting them and were ready with either the cash or with pledges.

It is evident that as the people have come to understand the work that the army Y. M. C. A. is doing, that they are all interested in it. Morgan county, like other counties, has sent its quota to the training camps. These men come from homes scattered all over the county. All of them have written to their friends and relatives praising the Y. M. C. A. and testifying that the organization is doing a wonderful work in furnishing the soldiers the "real touch of home." So it happened that a vast amount of publicity has been given the army Y. M. C. A. work and friends of the movement have multiplied rapidly. Remembering this fact, it is easy to account for the friendly reception that the solicitors are receiving.

As indicated in the tabulation figures above, the total sum contributed for the county thus far is $10,052. This does not take into account nearly $500 which has been subscribed by pupils of the high school and a fund which the pupils of David Prince school and the graded schools are raising.

School Pupil Enthusiasm
Chairman Rammelkamp made several announcements pertaining to campaign work and then called on T. W. Callihan, principal of the high school, to tell of the interest shown by the pupils and faculty there. Mr. Callihan said that a thermometer at the high school has been made to indicate the contributions and that when he left at noon the instrument registered $455. Of this sum $42.25 was given by the first year class, $50.25 by the second year class, $45.50 by the juniors and $55.74 by the seniors and $212 by the faculty. Other contributions are still to come. Supt. H. A. Perrin said that it had been determined not to miss the benefit which would come to graded schools by having all children take some part in raising the war fund and to that end contributions were being asked from the pupils for any amount from 5c up. The purpose is to let the children feel that they should have some part in this great work, and their interest will not be measured by the size of their contributions. A child who gives 5c will be accounted as having as great an interest as the child who is able to contribute $1. The children are all being asked to earn the money that they give.

Everybody's Business
Chairman Rammelkamp said that there had been a meeting of the executive committee earlier in the day and that he wished that M. F. Dunlap would repeat some of the statements he had made at that conference. Mr. Dunlap said that he really was at a loss to know just what statements were referred to. However, he said that this is a campaign in which every person should be interested. "It should not be necessary," he said, "for you men to go out and solicit subscriptions. People should be glad and willing to come to these headquarters and signify the amount of their subscriptions. This is our war and we must win. If for no other reason, we should make contribution to this fund as a business proposition for if we do not win our property is worth nothing. If Dr. Harker and Dr. Rammelkamp were soliciting funds for their institutions, they could appeal to only a part of the people, but in this instance we are seeking funds for a cause in which everybody is interested and everybody should do something for this cause."

Organized Giving.
"The Red Cross, the army Y. M. C. A. and the Knights of Columbus are three agencies which now stand above all others in philanthropic work. Were it not for these organizations various committee would be calling constantly upon you. There would be great duplication of effort and unnecessary expense. It should be a privilege to us all to have the opportunity to give now to this army Y. M. C. A. fund. We all want to help and if we did not have this splendid organization thru which to give, how would we find the way to aid and know that our soldiers were really reaching the intended destination?"

Mrs. E. L. Hill and Mrs. J. H. Danksin both spoke briefly and Dr. Harker made mention of posters prepared by students of the art department of Illinois Woman's College. These are works of art which are real messages and are described elsewhere in this issue.

When announcements were made by team captains, F. H. Bode reported that James Hill, proprietor of Hill's cafe on West Morgan street, and generously agreed to contribute the gross proceeds of his business next Sunday to the war fund. All the money taken in that day will be given as a subscription and judged by the usual Sunday business at the cafe this will be a goodly sum.

ville and Friday night at Bluffs. Mayor Rodgers will go to Nebo to make an address tonight.

William Floreth announced that the contribution from the Kresge store was $81. The firm agreed to give one-half of Tuesday's sales. This same plan applied to Kresge stores in other cities.

Mrs. Cora Patton is to give a dramatic entertainment Monday under the auspices of the Woman's Guild of Trinity church and the proceeds will be for the war fund.

Jacksonville Lodge Knights of Pythias No 152 has made a contribution and the Royal Neighbors Star Camp 171 contributed $16 to the fund.

In considering the reports of subscriptions it should be remembered that Jacksonville means Jacksonville precinct, which includes some of the country contiguous to the city. Subscriptions from all twelve of the Jacksonville precincts are credited to the city's fund.

The total of subscriptions for the army Y. M. C. A. fund for Monday and Tuesday as reported by President Rammelkamp at the luncheon was $1,792,662. The goal for Illinois is $4,160,000.

It is reported that the teachers and pupils at the School for the Blind will make a contribution as a school and the Central Hospital will also make an institutional contribution.

The students at Brown's Business College have become greatly interested in the campaign and will probably take up the matter of a contribution.

A letter received yesterday by Secretary Findley of the Y. M. C. A. from K. A. Shumaker, central department campaign director, seeks to impress the necessity of having subscriptions overreach the minimum goal. Mr. Shumaker declares that the situation in Russia and the reverses on the Italian front make almost inevitable the quick transfer of troops to France. This change in the situation will call for a larger expenditure of army Y. M. C. A. funds than was included in the estimate made six weeks ago. Further Mr. Shumaker calls attention to the need of men to serve as secretaries and the hope is expressed that one or more recruits for this service may be secured in this city.

Four Precincts "Over the Top"
Franklin, Lynnville, Literberry and Murrayville have gone "over the top" in their respective campaigns for the Army Y. M. C. A. fund, according to reports last night to Dr. J. R. Harker who is in charge of the precincts in the county outside of Jacksonville. W. N. Luttrell, in charge of the work at Franklin reported to Dr. Harker that Franklin had a surprise in store for the rest of the county. All of the towns mentioned are not going to quit with just their quota but it is probable that all of them will turn in a much larger amount.

Dr. Harker is greatly pleased with the work so far done in the county and said last night that he expected that all of the county precincts would reach their quotas before the campaign ends. At Waverly the merchants have agreed to donate two per cent of their gross receipts on Saturday to the cause.

The general committee of women has added a couple of hundred names to the list of possible donors among the women and an effort will be made to see all of these friends during the next two days.

The campaign is moving along in a most encouraging manner and it now seems likely that the city of Jacksonville will do her "super-bite" for the army work of the Y. M. C. A.

SANDWICH PRICES DOWN AT DESILVA LUNCH ROOM

Proprietor Raises Own Supplies and Is So Able to Help Reduce Living Costs—Fine Addition to Lunch Room.

Charles Desilva, at his West State street lunch room opposite the court house, is cutting living costs for his patrons. Most announcements these days are of prices going upward but at the Desilva lunch room it's mainly the other way. In the past sandwiches have been 8 cents and now the price is 5c. Weiners and kraut serves for 10c.

These reductions are possible because Mr. Desilva grows many of the materials that he uses in providing for his extensive trade. Pickles, onions and tomatoes that enter largely into the brisk sandwich trade at the Desilva lunch room were all grown in his garden and have been stored or canned for the winter's use.

Still another reason for the lower prices is that a government order will necessitate the discontinuing of the "bun" sandwich. Bakeries are not to make the buns, which require more sugar than bread. Two slices of bread cost less than a bun and the consumer is going to get the benefit.

In the well-equipped addition which has just been made to the Desilva lunch room an excellent oyster stew will be served for 15c and some other good things have been added to the everyday menu at these lower prices. The only change upward is the egg sandwich which because of the high price of eggs must be sold at 10c. If you want service and if you want to save you will visit the Desilva lunch room.

BAD WEATHER DUE TODAY

This is the day arranged by Frank Byrns with E. F. Ryan of Detroit, with the George P. Yost Fur Company of that city, for the display of a large and splendid line of furs. For several years past Mr. Byrns has had this display and every time bad weather has attended the visit of Mr. Ryan. While rain would be very acceptable it is hoped that Mr. Byrns will be favored with an exception for the enterprise he shows in securing this display is worthy of all success that the ladies may be able to call and see this exceptional line.

SAMUEL T. ZACHARY HAS HAD EVENTFUL CAREER

Well Known Morgan County Farmer Had Exciting Adventures in Days of Civil War—Came to Illinois Nearly Fifty Years Ago—Has Made Success of Farming

A notable citizen of Morgan county is Samuel T. Zachary residing eleven miles east of the city on a farm supplied with the good things of life to a reasonable degree. Mr. Zachary has had an eventful career such as falls to the lot of few men in this world. He was born in Fenters county, Tennessee, the middle part, near the Cumberland river, and was the son of James and Cassandra Brook Zachary. He has a brother, Pierson Miller Zachary, a sister, Mrs. Pamela Carroll Dowdy of Pope county; one sister, Mrs. E. A. Jackson of Easter, state of Washington; a brother, Marion, died in Oklahoma last February. Marion and three other brothers, Allen, Porter and Logan all enlisted in the Kentucky cavalry. Allen and Porter were killed in battle and Logan starved to death in Belle Isle prison. Mr. Zachary's father and family were uncompromising union people and had no use for secession or slavery and they were not afraid to let their sentiments be known.

The boys early enlisted in the army and May 1861 the father went to see them in camp as they were afflicted with measles and on his return rebel guerrillas surrounded the place and murdered the head of the house, leaving Samuel, only thirteen years old, the head of the family who tended the crops and managed to get along with the afflicted mother and desolate sisters. One brother of the father and one brother-in-law, Mr. Huddleston, were also foully murdered by the guerrillas.

The family was getting a small start again when a large force of rebel cavalry camped by the place and swept it like a plague of grasshoppers of almost everything to be had, burned fences and buildings, took away eatables and feed and left the family in a pitiable condition. The rebels appropriated a big wagon and two yoke of oxen to haul away plunder from the farm and fortunately a man detailed to drive the cattle was a friend of the family though in the rebel army. He had a heart in him too and managed to forget to return on one trip and told the little boy to load the family into the wagon and with the oxen make their way to Kentucky which they did though the child was hardly big enough to handle the whip with which he drove the cattle but he made up in grit what he lacked in size and strength.

Liberty, Casey county, was the objective point sought in the blue grass state and there the family found union friends and sympathizers and bravely went to work to make a living. It is unnecessary to say that they had little of the luxuries of life but they managed by honesty and industry to make their way. It was in Kentucky that Mr. Zachary met the Davenport family and formed with them a lasting friendship.

Mr. Zachary came to Illinois Feb. 2, 1871 and worked nine months for Mr. Davenport a mile east of the present family home, and then went back to Kentucky for his bride whom he had sought and won while a resident of that state and Feb. 2, 1871 he and Miss R. J. Tapscott were married and at once sought their home in the Sucker state.

After the war the old mother went back to her Tennessee home where she peacefully ended her days.

Mr. and Mrs. Zachary are rich in their children who do them honor. They are Mrs. Minnie Robertson, north of Alexander, James Z. of Augusta, Kansas; Mitchell F., west of Jacksonville; Mrs. Lucy L. Adams, east of the city; Marion G., residing in the vicinity of Orleans; Samuel A., northeast of Alexander; Bessie May, Harold L., and Helen, at home.

EARL M. JOHNSTON
NOW IN PETROGRAD

Jacksonville Man is Private Secretary to U. S. Ambassador David R. Francis.

Several months ago Mr. Earl M. Johnston, son of Mr. E. F. Johnston of North Church street, left the city and while various rumors were current as to the young man's position and whereabouts, there was seemingly no confirmation to be had at that time of the story that he was in the diplomatic service of the government. Word which reached the city recently, and which there is every reason to believe to be authentic, is that Mr. Johnston is now the private secretary to Ambassador David R. Francis, stationed at Petrograd, Russia. Mr. Johnston left Jacksonville over a year ago and it is presumed that most of his time has been spent in Petrograd since then. He has therefore, had every opportunity to get first hand information on the many changes in government circles in that revolution torn country in the last few months. His brother, Sidney Johnston, was formerly private secretary to David R. Francis when the latter was governor of Missouri and it is probable that when Mr. Sidney Johnston was appointed as state factory inspector with headquarters at St. Louis, that he was able to secure his brother as his successor. Mr. Sidney Johnston married a St. Louis girl, a Miss Veith, whose father is the owner of the Washington Hotel.

NEW HOME GUARD
COMPANY ASSURED

SEVENTY TWO INDICATE APPROVAL OF MOVEMENT AT ARMORY HALL.

Request is Sent Adjutant General For Military Man to Address Company Supporters Explaining Details Regarding Organization—Organization May Serve Two-Fold Purpose.

An enthusiastic meeting in the interest of a home guard company was held Wednesday evening at Armory hall with about one hundred persons in attendance. The temperature of the hall did not seem to cool the military ardor of those present and seventy two signed cards signifying that they were willing to become members of such an organization in this city. The meeting was called principally thru the activity of Fred Darr, who has been talking to a number of Jacksonville men relative to such a movement, believing that a number of young men here who are subject to the draft would stand a better chance for promotion and be better fitted for military life, if before leaving for the cantonments they received some training along military lines. Fire Chief Samuel Hunt had been interviewed regarding such a movement and is willing to lend his assistance and whatever time he can to further such a cause. However, it developed at the meeting last night that a home guard company would be an organization not only for the mere military training it would give the younger men of the community, but also a company which would act as a real home guard for Jacksonville or Morgan county. Unless such a company should later be affiliated with the national guard it could not be ordered out for service anywhere in the state and would be solely for the protection of Jacksonville and community.

Mr. Darr called the meeting to order and introduced Attorney Hug P. Green. Mr. Green discussed the home guard proposition and stated that it would act solely as a guard for Jacksonville, and unless later affiliated with the national guard could not be called out for further service. It was his idea that a number of the older men of the community should take part in this movement, as the great number of the younger men, subject to the draft might not be able to take any part in local affairs for any certain period, being subject to call to the front at any time.

Mr. Green was chosen temporary chairman and Mr. Darr temporary secretary of the meeting, after which Chief Hunt addressed the gathering and stated that while it was his understanding that the meeting was to call together a number of young men merely to give them some military knowledge and to enable them to have better understanding of military drill and tactics before they were drafted, that he was also in favor of the home guard movement in the sense of an organized unit for the protection of the home community and made up of older men of the community. He said it was immaterial to him which way the organization was perfected or for what purpose it was organized that he would be glad to give such time as he was able and his ability in making the company a success.

After a number had inquired as to the liability of the members of the company for service either in Jacksonville or thruout the state, who was required of those who signed up for the company, and various questions regarding it, and no one seeming to have any definite knowledge in this regard, Mr. Felix Farrell made the suggestion that the temporary secretary, Mr. Darr, be instructed to write Adjutant General Dickson at Springfield, stating the number of men present at the meeting who had signified their intention of joining the home guard, and asking that a military man be sent to Jacksonville to speak either at the library or the court house, at which time he could explain these questions as to the home guards liability for service, etc., to the men. This suggestion was put in the form of a motion and carried and the secretary was so instructed.

Supt. Gillett of the School for the Deaf has very kindly offered the use of a number of wooden guns which are at the institution and also stated that whenever the weather permitted the grounds of the institution were open to the guard for use in drilling. It is probable that at an early date some man of military standing will be sent to Jacksonville and will address all those interested in such a movement, either at the library or the court house. At that time the men will be able to better understand what the organization will really stand for and the organization of the company will be perfected. At the meeting last night Mr. Darr circulated a number of cards thruout the crowd and seventy two signed the cards, giving their name, address and telephone number. From this number enrolled the first night it seems that the success of such a movement in Jacksonville is assured.

IDAHO COUNTY HAS
GOOD VOLUNTEER RECORD

Mrs. Bell Carr of Caldwell, Canyon county, Idaho, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Whalen on West North street. She came to this section of Illinois to see her son, Corporal L. Ray Carr, who is a member of the U. S. signal corps, aviation section, at Rantoul field. Mrs. Carr states that in Canyon county there has not been any men drafted into the national army, as the number volunteering from that county was more than the quota of drafted men needed.

CHRISTMAS TREES
FOR CAMP TAYLOR

Louisville Paper Has Plan Under Way Which Will Insure a "Merry Christmas" for Soldiers.

Santa Claus is going to "do his bit." He is formally pledged to help win the war by distributing good cheer and gifts on Christmas eve among the soldiers from Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois stationed at Camp Zachary Taylor in Louisville. Official cognizance of his enlistment has been taken by Maj. Gen. Harry C. Hale, commanding officer of the big camp at the falls of the Ohio River.

The Courier-Journal, of which Henry Watterson is editor, has volunteered to act as Santa Claus in khaki to that portion of the National Army located at the Louisville cantonment and has given a pledge that every officer and private, numbering over 30,000 men, will receive a gift. Gen. Hale has accepted the generous offer and promised cooperation in making the Christmas celebration a noteworthy and unusual event in military history.

The plans provide for a mammoth Christmas Tree in front of each regimental headquarters at Camp Zachary Taylor on Christmas eve. Friends and relatives of men stationed at the camp are urged to send their gifts by mail or express in care of "Santa Claus, 84th Division, Courier-Journal, Louisville, Ky." Packages should be forwarded early. Extreme care must be taken to write plainly the name, company and regiment of the man for whom the gift is intended. An immense warehouse in a fireproof building has been engaged for the storage of gifts prior to placing them on the trees.

If any officer or private has received no gift just before Christmas, presents will be supplied for him by his modern Santa Claus of the quill and shears. A fund for this purpose is now being raised by the Courier-Journal and contributions to it should be addressed in the same manner as the other gifts are sent.

On the afternoon before Christmas each regimental tree will be decorated and wired for electric illumination. The gifts will be hung in place under the joint supervision of the newspaper Santa Claus and the officers of the 84th Division. Shortly after dusk every man in each regiment will assemble before his regimental tree. The lights will be turned on, the bands will play and every soldier at Camp Zachary Taylor will step forward as his name is called out to find that Santa Claus has not forgotten him.

Jacksonville lodge No. 570, A. F. & A. M. will hold a stated meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Visiting brethren welcome. C. S. Richards, W. M. E. L. Kinney, Sec'y.

FROM MISSISSIPPI

Mr. and Mrs. Ensley Moore returned Tuesday evening from a trip to Moorhead, Miss., where they visited Mr. and Mrs. William Walter Moore and family. They went and returned via St. Louis and Memphis. Mr. W. W. Moore is now a planter, and has built a nice home on his land, and there his parents enjoyed a stay of about two weeks.

The travellers were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Wood Terry, at dinner, and there met Mr. James W. Miller, of Decatur, Ill. The Terrys are well known and Mr. Terry has disposed of his land at a good advance on its cost.

One incident of special interest to our city visitors was seeing a rattle snake which Messrs Moore and Terry killed. It was 5 1/2 feet in length, 8 inches thick at its best, and decorated with sixteen rattles. Whether it was a "pilot," or had one, was not ascertained.
